ST. NICHOLAS.

SCRIBNER'S ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE
FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

The LONDON ACADEMY, of December 22d, 1877, says: "Of ST. NICHOLAS we welcome the best stamp of juvenile literature that we have yet seen. We have no hesitation in saying that both in the letter-press and in the pictures this American magazine has no rival."

In ST. NICHOLAS for December, the Grand Christmas Number, was begun a charming new

Serial Story by Miss Alcott

"Under the Lilacs," illustrated by MARY HALLOCK FOOTE to continue during the year. This same Christmas number, of which one hundred thousand copies were printed, contained the opening chapters of a "ROBINSON CRUSOE" STORY for boys, "Tower-Mountain," by GUSTAVUS FRANKENSTEIN, also poems by LONGFELLOW and BRYANT, a portrait of Miss Alcott, half a dozen short stories, pictures, poems, etc., etc. It is the handsomest number of a child's magazine ever issued.

The NEW YORK TRIBUNE says:

"ST. NICHOLAS has a list of contributors such as no other children's magazine, or few publications of any sort, in the world can boast. It has caused the best writers in America to turn their attention to the task of giving delight and imparting culture to children. In the avalanche of immoral literature that threatens the children, some strong, vitally wholesome, and really attractive magazine is required for them, and ST. NICHOLAS has reached a higher platform, and commands for this service wider resources in art and letters, than any of its predecessors or contemporaries."

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1878,

Besides the SERIAL STORIES above announced, will have a short serial story by the author of The Schonberg-Cotta Family; and THREE SPLENDID SERIALS FOR BOYS, one of which "DRIFTED INTO PORT," by EDWIN HODDER, an English writer, will begin in March. "Around the world in a Yacht, Boys!" has been promised by a brilliant writer now on the actual tour of the world in his own yacht. There will be contributions by a daughter of the famous Peter Parley, and a Letter to Young Americans by GEORGE MACDONALD.

The "HOW" Series of instructive papers, by various authors, will tell HOW to bind your own books; HOW they mine coal; HOW to enjoy yourselves at home; HOW to be an agreeable guest; HOW to entertain company; HOW to be a carpenter; HOW to make an ice-boat; HOW to build a house; How India rubber is gathered; HOW matches are made; HOW to be a Parlor Magician; HOW money is made; HOW mackerel are caught; HOW they laid the Atlantic cable; HOW they mine in California; HOW they work in the tea-country; etc. There will be also a series of stories and sketches of Foreign Life, such as "Old Nicolai" (a Russian story), "A Day among the Welsh Castles," "Eustar in Germany," "The Indians of the Amazon," "How Kitty was lost in a Turkish Bazar," "Master Montezuma" (a Mexican story), "Hans, the Lapp Maiden," and many others.

TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE,

"Jack-in-the-Pulpit," "Young Contributors' Department," "Letter-Box," "Riddle Box," and "For Very Little Folks," will be continued.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The veteran Magazine, which long ago outgrew its original title of the New Monthly Magazine, has not in the least abated the popularity it won at the outset, but has added to it in many ways, and has kept fairly abreast of the times, thanks to the enterprise of the publishers and the tact and wisdom of its editors. For whatever is best and most readable in the literature of travel, discovery, and fiction, the average reader of to-day looks to Harper's Magazine, just as expectantly as did the readers of a quarter of a century ago; there is the same admirable variety of contents and the same freshness and suggestiveness in its editorial departments now as then.—Boston Journal.

INTERESTING TO THE LADIES.

A TEST OF WIFELY SUBMISSION.

The late Chief-Justice Chase's mother once bore her part in a little comedy which was almost Shakesperian. With her husband, she was visiting two of his brothers, who were also married. The three gentlemen sitting and talking together, made some playful wagers on the subject of their wives tempers, and agreed to test them. So, walking into the room where the three ladies were seated at the fireside making caps, which at that time were fashionable, the trial began. The first brother, after some slighting remarks concerning caps in general, and his wife's handiwork in particular, commanding her to "throw it into the fire." Naturally, the indignant lady paid small attention to the order. The next brother's attempt met with the same result; but no sooner did the Chief-Justice's father command his wife to toss the cap in the fire, than the cap went into the flames; and in the most prompt and serene manner. It may perhaps be unnecessary to add that, of the three husbands he was the most thoroughly well managed.

GERMAN WIVES.

The culinary art forms a part of the education of the women in Germany. The well-to-do tradesmen, like the mechanic, takes pride in seeing his daughters good housekeepers. To effect this object the girl on leaving school, which she does when about fourteen years of age, goes through the ceremony of confirmation, and then is placed by her parents with a country gentleman, or in a large family, where she remains one or two years, filling what may also be termed the post of servant, or doing the work of one. This is looked upon as an apprenticeship in domestic economy. She differs from a servant, however, in this—she receives no wages; on the contrary her parents often pay for the care taken of her as well as her clothing. This is the first step in her education as housekeeper. She next passes, on the same conditions, into the kitchen of a rich private family, or into that of a hotel of good repute. Here she has control of the expenditures of the servants employed in it, and assists personally in the cooking, but is always addressed as miss, and is treated by the family with deference and consideration. Many families receive similar training, with this difference, however, that they receive it in a princely mansion or a royal palace. There is a reigning queen in Germany at the present time, who was educated in this way. Consequently the women in Germany are perfect models of economy.

A SERIOUS BUSINESS.

Girls talk all alike about marriage, as though it was a jubilee, gladsome thing, a rose without a thorn, and so it is, if all is right, if they go about it as rational beings, instead of merry-making children. It is a serious thing to marry. It is a life business. Therefore never do it in haste; never run away to get married; never marry for wealth or standing, or fine person or manners, but for both, for the qualities of the mind and heart, which make an honorable man. Take time, think long and well before you accept any proposal; consult your parents, then some judicious friend, then your own judgment. Learn all that is possible for you to learn of your proposed husband. When all doubts have been removed, and not till then, accept him.

SOUTANES AND PETTICOATS.

It has been often remarked that the sagacity of Romish seminarists is exhibited by their practice of compelling boys destined for the priesthood to flounder along the streets in their long gowns, and never permitting them to cast them aside or play in the close-fitting clothes wherein English lads enjoy their cricket and football. The obstruction to free action, though slight in itself, yet constantly maintained, gradually tames down the wildest spirits to the level of ecclesiastical decorum. But the longest of soutanes is a joke compared to the multitudinous petticoats, which up to the last year or two, every lady was compelled to wear, swishing and flowing about her ankles as if she was walking through the sea.

Nor is the fashion of these later days much better, when the scantier dress is "tied back"—as I am informed—with an elastic band, much on the principle that a horse is "hobbled" in a field; and to this a tail a yard long is added, which must either be left to draggle in the mud, or must occupy an arm exclusively to hold it up. In youth these skirts are bad enough, as exercising a constant check on free and healthful movement; but the moment that the elastic steps begin to give place to the lassitude of middle life, the case is desperate. There is no longer energy to overcome the impediments created by the ridiculous spancels; and the poor donkey of a woman hobbles daily round a shorter and a shorter course, till at forty, or fifty, she tells her friends, with a sigh, that she finds (she cannot imagine why) that she cannot work at all.

HOUSE CLEANING.

In the spring women's thoughts turn soberly to house cleaning; and where there are not many hands to make light work of it, it is indeed hard work, and it will pay well to hire a woman to help with the heaviest part of it, such as the washing of windows, paint bedspreads, blankets and the like. The men ought to be willing to lend a helping hand in putting down the carpets, as well as in shaking them. It is not needful to take up all the carpets; only those rooms that are in constant use require such thorough cleaning. In the other rooms if moths are to be feared, it is well to loosen all the edges of the carpet and sweep out all the dust that has collected under them, and wash the floors with strong soapsuds, in which a little coal oil has been mixed, and then tack down the carpets, keeping the windows open until the disagreeable odor has vanished. The moths will not attack the carpets this year when thus treated. It is in the corners and along the edges of the walls that their attacks are to be dreaded; and if the millers can be kept away by any pungent substances, such as red pepper, powdered camphor, borax, or alum, there need be no fear of them. Upholstered furniture can be kept free by washing out the concealed parts, where the backs and seats meet, with strong alum water, and it will also brighten the color of the greens and reds. But before the coverings are washed they must be thoroughly cleansed from all dust and smoke by brushing them well with a stiff brush, wiping off the dirt with a damp cloth. Boiling hot water can also be used to scrub carpets that are infested with moths, and it will surely kill all larvæ. Straw matting can be made look fresh and clean by sprinkling corn meal over them, then sweeping up, and afterwards washing the breadths with a woollen cloth, wrung out in strong salt and water.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

A child three years old, son of Mr. Trundy of Poland, was drowned a few days since by falling from a bridge into Bog Brook.

Letters from Mr. George T. Little of Auburn, state that he is in Paris, will leave for Switzerland the first of June and return home early in August.

A Russian officer from the Cimbria passed through Lewiston on the Maine Central railroad Sunday. He was the observed of all observers.

Some workmen were excavating between Second and Third streets on Prospect Hill, Lewiston, on Thursday, when they unearthed two ten-pounder cannon balls. They were about five feet below the surface, and considerably eaten by rust. Probably they are the relics of some early muster field and carried to her residence. Dr. Russell combat.

As Mr. J. L. Peabody, of the firm of Peabody & Pettengill, wife and child were riding down the hill near the junction of Elm with Main St., at Lewiston, Friday afternoon, his horse stepped on a rolling stone, stumbled and fell, throwing the occupants from the carriage. Mr. Peabody stuck on his feet and was uninjured, and the child on its hands and feet and was only slightly bruised. But Mrs. Peabody was thrown over the horse's head, and struck the ground on her temple. She was picked up senseless and carried to her residence. Dr. Russell was summoned and found her in a critical condition. Monday morning, however, she has recovered consciousness, and the symptoms are more favorable.

Cumberland.

The Press says: A two story wooden house and ell, belonging to Alexander Higgins, situated at Long Creek, Cape Elizabeth, was burned at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The house was simply occupied by a man who used one room to lodge in. He was up in the night and built a fire and it is thought a defective chimney did the business. The house was fully insured.

The alarm in Portland, Sunday night, was caused by fire in an old wooden shed belonging to the Glass Works. The building was filled with barrels belonging to William Manning, who leases the works. This building and its contents was burned and the sparks set fire to a little house near by occupied by Patrick Clary. The furniture was saved, but the building was ruined. The loss of both buildings is light and they were insured.

Sunday evening during the Sunday school anniversary exercises at the Second Parish church, at Portland, the alarm of fire was sounded, and some idiotic person rushed into the church and cried fire. The result was a perfect stampede for the door. The Superintendent, Mr. [illegible], taking in the situation, assured the people that there was no trouble and by starting up the music very much subdued the excitement which for a time was intense. One woman whose name was not learned fainted and afterwards went into convulsions.

The Press says that Hennessey and Bowen, the parties arrested on charge of being concerned in the robbery of Charles Day's store in Portland, of $1000 worth of watches, and who were said to be identified at the time of arrest by the party robbed, who, when they were arraigned failed to identify them, were bound over till the September term, in the sum of $1500 each. Other witnesses identified them, and Judge Knight remarked that somebody had been trifling in this case, and it was well to go slow and sure until the bottom of the matter was reached. The men indulged in a good deal of cheap profanity when they came to a realizing sense of their situation. It was impossible for them to get bail, and one of them remarked that by lying in jail until September they should lose the best of the season. It is to be hoped that all bank robbers, burglars, and gentry of that ilk, will be prosecuted so vigorously that Maine will be known to the fraternity as a hard place to operate in.

Mr. Merrill an employe at Clark's ice house at Sebago Lake slipped and fell, catching his arm on an ice-hook and tearing the limb in a shocking manner.

Portland has a queer case. One Obadiah Loratte, who broke jail six years ago, returned Sunday and gave himself up. He was a prisoner transferred from York Co., while Alfred jail was being repaired. Since his escape, at Charleston, N. H., he broke into a depot in 1873 and stole some money. He was caught, tried and sentenced to the State Prison at Concord for a term of three years. He served his time and was discharged December 20th, 1876. He says that when he left this prison he determined to lead a better life, and up to the present time he has kept perfectly straight. Since that time he has got his living by peddling, but says that he had a feeling all the time that he was not a free man, and it troubled him. Time and again he returned to give himself up but his heart failed him. On Wednesday, the first day of the month, he came to the city for that purpose, but through fear was led to give it up and returned to Boston but came back and gave himself up. He belongs to York and not Cumberland county, and Sheriff Dresser is to write and ask Judge Barrows what disposition to make with such an unusual case. The fellow appears honest, and there is not a trace of insanity about him. He desires above all things to be a free man, and says unless he can be pardoned he wants to serve out his sentence. Just such a case has not a parallel in the history of crime, says the Press.

Kennebec.

The ice business of the Kennebec is assuming vast proportions. The tow boats on the river are taxed to their utmost ability. Nearly sixty vessels passed up in two days this week. A fleet of twenty-two passed up Saturday afternoon.

The Reporter says that the wife of Mr. Alver Winslow, of the firm of Ayer & Winslow, boot and shoe dealers of Gardiner, died very suddenly, on Saturday, of hemorrhage of the lungs.

The Gardiner Reporter says that Mr. Washington Rollins, residing in Pittston, a gentleman some seventy-five or eighty years of age, died very suddenly Friday morning at his residence in that place.

CHASE, EMERY, RUST & CO.

Perhaps we ought to include Daniel Pratt in the above financial firm, but the editor of the Commercial leaves no room to doubt his affiliation with and admiration of the great international financier from Turner's Falls. Marcellus assumes an ardent championship of Solon, and even adds to the picturesqueness of the combination, by including Brother Rust, of the late Republican Belfast Age in his fraternal Greenback embrace. On the whole we do not think that Daniel would add much to the striking amalgamation.

In his ardor of championship the Commercial man accuses us of wholesale misrepresentation of Mr. Chase's remarks, but he carefully avoids taking issue with our report except upon a single and unimportant point. He says that Mr. Chase did not state that Secretary Sherman's drain of gold from England caused an increased issue of paper money there resulting in a decrease of prices received for our products in that country, but that he declared that it caused a contraction of England's paper money which produced the alleged effect on prices, we can see that this version would help Mr. Chase's logic on that point, but he distinctly said what we reported, whatever he might have meant. Possibly he may have made the other statement during his repetitions and contradictions, but if so we did not notice it, while we called the attention of a person near us to the statement of which we made note.

The point, however, is of very small importance, and the Commercial's version only removes one of the elements of a mass of absurdities. Secretary Sherman does not draw all his gold from England, but obtains it from the revenue on imports from all parts of the world, and from the sale of bonds to our own people and those of various nations, the Syndicates that have taken all the recent loans being composed of capitalists of different nationalities. Mr. Chase probably knows about as much of the effects of our financial policy upon the business of England as the Commercial editor does about the abstruse domestic and social problems which he discusses in his paper on Saturday evenings for the delectation of chambermaids and their ardent swains.

The substantial accuracy and eminent fairness of our comments upon the Greenback harangue at City Hall, have been commended by a number of those who went there to listen intelligently, and the fact that its newspaper champion does not attempt to controvert a single, material point in our strictures, is additional evidence of their unassailable justice. The simple truth is that Chase's talk was a clumsy bundling of absolute contradictions, clap-trap appeals to prejudice against "bond-holders" and grotesque absurdities of pretension to financial knowledge. This appears plainly even in the brief abstract, which was all that the Commercial ventured to print of a speech lasting some two hours; and anything like a verbatim report would furnish very ridiculous evidence of the incapacity of Mr. Solon Chase to regulate the financial systems of the universe.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. TEFFT

[The following letter was received by us some ten days ago, but was accidentally mislaid and overlooked. As we have published some of the facts bearing upon one phase of the case, and desire to be impartial, we give space below to the tribute in behalf of Dr. Tefft sent us from one of his friends in Kenduskeag. ED.]

To the Editor of the Courier

I have felt verry much interrested in the charges brought against my old Friend, Rev. Dr. Tefft, in your paper, not that they have caused me to loos Faith in him or think eny the less of him, I can truly say when his paper Colapsed, as you wer Pleased to call It, it was a great loss to me, through the kindness of a Friend I had the Pleasure of reading it, And, as it was the only one I had much confidence in, or in other words, the only one but what would print gust what 'Desinging People' wished them to withowght the least regard to the Truthfulness of one word they sayed; and I have good reason to think if he had soop-ed, to such a bace corse, He might have hade a grate meany more pretended Friends, but what are such Friends good fore Friends that can be bought and sold You or enny one else are welcome to, I have had all I want of such People,

I have carefully red all the Charges braught against him and providing every word true I fail to see enny thing Criminal in enny of them, for my part I think Mr. Rigby verry fortunate in having a Pardener kind enough to make up his loss from his own Pocket Book, And dont you think it a litt e strange that Property should retain its value in that one place, when it has lost all most if not quite half its value in every other place all over our Nation; then who ever heard of enny one, when they come to die and have there Earthly Treasures disposed of being proved as rich as they wer thought to be, It is verry hard when one is willing to give up there own rights to keep Piece then not have them satisfied and some times ones own relations think them verry stubern and willful to Clame the right to use enough of, what is there own to suply there own wants, it is verry strange how quick there will be strife and contention hard feelings in familes where there is alittle Mooney.

And, yet how much Good one can do with mooney where People are willing to do as they would be done by, but how few of that stamp. It seems some times to me as though there was no Truth or Justis on Earth, when our Cotts will alow such inhuman things done withought taking enny notice at all of the most cruel deeds, enny man with a smooth Toung and a little mooney can go right in to Cort an care the Judge and Jury will let them have evry thing all ther own way, often withought the other side of the  being informed what is going on, and they are left to learn by ther own sad experiance they have lost not only there propity, but even there Own Identidy. Dr. Tefft is a man that has always tryed with all his power, and that is not feeble, to stand up for Truth and the right such men now days, have bitter Enemies I have known for a long time he had, but truth and Justice though Crushed to earth is shure to rise again, I hear he has an Invalid Wife, such familis always have Invilids in them, and You too Mr Editor have been sick I would advise you to get a box of Dr Hamlins Blue Pils, they say they are a shure cure for all Ills

Now Mr Editor be Honest once and say Truly dont You the Governer of New Yourk had men in his State that there would have been more Justness in sending a Sheriff after than Dr Tefft, say for instance, The Tilton, now if I could have the handling of that man and Mother-in law, the first thing I did I would tell them to Rap there Dramatick Talent up in a napkin, and prepare to Emmergrate, and I would find them a place and all such people, where they should go to work and earn there own living It is everdent to me they keep that Wife and Daughter in such a state of mind an body they can do enny thing they pleas with her and that is enny thing they can get the most monney from, how long shal the land morn and the herbs of evry field wither for the wickedness of them that dwell there in

TILDEN'S GAME.

APPLYING GAG RULE IN THE HOUSE.

Refusal to Investigate Democratic Frauds.

All the reports from Washington note that in the bringing forward of the so-called Fraud resolutions on Monday, the movement was engineered by those Democrats who have hitherto professed indifference or disapproval of the agitation, and these new champions have brushed the original fraud-shriekers into the back-ground. The change is accounted for by Clarkson N. Potter's recent consultation with Tilden in New York, and the owner of that historic "barrel of money" seems to have furnished arguments so potent as to force united Democratic support of his revolutionary schemes. Potter will be remembered as the individual who published such an incendiary manifesto in favor of setting up Tilden as a rival President with a Congress of his own; that sober-minded Democrats were compelled to disavow and rebuke his utterances. He now appears as Tilden's chief-of-staff on the floor of the House to initiate proceedings of the most mischievous character, the entire partisanship of which was fully exposed in the debate on Monday.

The amendment proposed by Mr. Hale was so obviously appropriate that Potter was forced to base his refusal to admit it on the ground that it was only intended to investigate alleged frauds in the interest of the election of Hayes, and that any inquiry into Democratic frauds must be made by some other committee, if the Republicans could obtain votes enough to have one ordered. Certainly nothing more scandalous has appeared in the whole miserable record of the Confederate House, than the pretense of a desire to expose frauds in the Presidential election while stubbornly refusing to investigate Democratic rascality so notorious as that brought to light in the Oregon despatches to and from Tilden's private residence in Gramercy Park. We publish elsewhere the substance of Mr. Hale's amendment, and below give the Associated Press report of the debate upon it in the House on Monday.

MR. HALE DESIRES TO OFFER AN AMENDMENT.

Mr. Hale said he had an amendment to offer which was clearly germane to the resolution, and he submitted that in all fairness he should be permitted to offer it. He hoped that, considering the magnitude of the subject (which had been well referred to and acknowledged by the gentleman from New York) that gentleman would not seek here and now to stifle further debate or to prevent the Republican side of the House from offering amendments that would make the investigation more exhaustive and searching. He therefore asked the gentleman from New York to yield to him to offer his amendment.

Mr. Potter—I will yield to the gentleman to state the nature of his amendment. It may be that in the form of an amendment he merely wants to get in a speech.

Mr. Hale—The better way is for the gentleman to allow the amendment to be read.

Mr. Potter—The gentleman from Maine is exceedingly familiar with parliamentary law, and is able to state the nature of his amendment, and when he states it then I will answer whether I will allow it to be offered.

Mr. Hale—Then I will read the amendment.

Mr. Potter—I did not ask the gentleman to do that; I asked him to state what the nature of his amendment was.

Mr. Hale—I think I may be allowed to say that this matter has not come suddenly. It was considered for a long time by the gentleman and his associates, but it was never known when it would be sprung upon the House. Feeling that it was becoming, of course, a party matter, I consulted with the Speaker and received from him the assurance—and I am glad to say that in these matters the Speaker is always ready to give the minority a chance to be heard—that this side of the House should be represented in this matter and should have an opportunity of presenting its propositions. All that will come from the gentleman's yielding to my courteous request that my amendment may come in here is the opportunity to vote upon it. He and his associates may vote it down if they will, and we will then vote upon the resolution. He will see, however, that my amendment is germane to the resolution in the direction of investigation, and that, so far from narrowing the investigation or stifling it in the least degree, it sends to this select committee, appointed for a purpose, subject matters only connected with the subject matter of the original resolution, and that it departs not one iota from the great subject matter of the investigation—the alleged frauds attendant upon the Presidential election of 1876. I ask him now, as he seeks a full investigation, if he does not throttle the right of this side of the House, to offer an amendment?

The Speaker—The chair desires to say, in corroboration of the gentleman from Maine (Hale), that the chair did state this: That if the gentleman from Maine desired to submit an amendment he would be recognized by the chair for that purpose, provided the gentleman who was in charge of the proposed resolution gave an opportunity to offer it. Then the gentleman from Maine asked whether the amendment being germane to the subject matter, was not as much a question of privilege as the original resolution itself, and the chair told him that, if the amendment was as competent as a question of privilege, the chair would give him the privilege of offering the proposition in his own right.

Mr. Hale—I admit clearly that the responsibility is not with the chair, but with the gentleman representing the majority on the other side. My amendment is here [holding it in his hands], and I desire to offer it.

MR. POTTER REFUSES TO ADMIT THE AMENDMENT.

Mr. Potter—I accept all the responsibility that belongs to me as to determining whether the amendment shall come in. I do not yield, to allow the amendment to be offered. The final responsibility does not rest upon me, but upon the House of Representatives, which may refuse to second the previous question. But the gentleman has made no answer to my request as to what his amendment relates to, any more than that he says it relates to the subject of the alleged Presidential frauds.

Mr. Hale—Will the gentleman let the amendment be read, and then he will understand what it is? I will send it to the clerk's desk. [Shouts of "No, no," from the Democratic side of the House.]

Mr. Potter—The gentleman from Maine can answer if he chooses, and if he refuses to answer and insists on giving me an answer in a quire of foolscap, then I say that is not such an appeal to my courtesy as I ought to yield to. For aught I know, it may refer to other States than the States of Florida and Louisiana.

Mr. Hale—Then the gentleman seems to limit his investigation to the selected States and will not allow it to go outside. Is that the reason why he will not admit my amendment? I tell the gentleman plainly that my amendment is not confined to the States of Florida and Louisiana.

Mr. Potter—Now I have got at last an answer to my inquiry, and I decline to yield for the amendment. If frauds were attempted in Florida and Louisiana, they were carried out successfully and became operative. If the object of the amendment of the gentleman from Maine is to show that there were frauds in South Carolina, by which the electoral vote of that State was counted for Hayes when it ought to be counted for Tilden, then I shall be prepared to answer as to an amendment of that sort; but the gentleman from Maine will not venture to declare anything of that kind.

Mr. Hale—In other words, you mean to say that any frauds that apply on the one side are to be looked into here, and that any frauds committed by the gentleman's own party are to be excluded. Is that it? [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. Potter—Oh no! The world of wrong is very wide. Is the gentleman anxious to inquire into the matter of moral delinquency outside of the two States of Florida and Louisiana? I do not object. Let him introduce his resolution for that purpose, and himself be put at the head of a committee, and go into that investigation. [Applause on the Democratic side.] I seek nothing of the kind. I am not aiming at persons. I desire to ascertain if fraud in the electoral vote of these States was really perpetrated, and if so, how it was perpetrated, in order that such frauds may be prevented hereafter.

Mr. Hale—And the gentleman denies any attempt at investigation where there are clearly shown frauds, the oldest in American history perpetrated by his own party in half a dozen other States. He refuses to let that investigation go to his committee.

Mr. Potter—I will vote for any kind of investigation that you ask, but the amendment you propose is not germane to this resolution, and is intended to prevent an effectual investigation.

Mr. Hale—But the gentleman will not let it go to the committee of which he is the head. I do not ask for an appointment on a committee with a majority from this side of the House, but I ask that the inquiry, which the gentleman's resolution proposes be as sweeping as the country desires it to be.

Mr. Potter—Well, let the gentleman from Maine, sweep the dirt for himself. [Laughter on the Democratic side.]

Mr. Hale—The gentleman from New York evidently does not mean to sweep. [Laughter on the Republican side.]

Mr. Potter—Not with the inefficient broom that you would like to use.

Mr. Garfield took the floor, but was met with calls to order on the Democratic side.

Mr. Potter said—I yield to any one of the visiting statesmen. [Laughter.]

MR. GARFIELD DENOUNCES A ONE-SIDED INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Garfield—I understood the gentleman from New York to say, when he was first up that he was not seeking to investigate the Presidential title but to investigate the question of fraud in the Presidential election. Now if that be so I can only say that the gentleman's last position that he will not investigate any alleged fraud in any State unless the vote of that State was necessary to put the President in the Presidential chair, is in conflict with that idea. It seems to me my friend utterly changes his position now to one of seeking to get at the Presidential title. If he is seeking to get at the question of fraud in the Presidential election, then he will get, I believe, the unanimous vote of this side of the House to pass his resolution, provided he will enlarge it to take in all the other cases, where there is a real bona fide allegation and belief, by a large body of people, of fraud fully as great as anything he believes to have existed in Florida and Louisiana. If he will enlarge his resolution in that way it will have my vote and the vote of every man on this side of the House. [Several Republicans—"Every man."] But if he elects a certain narrow limit of alleged fraud, which, in case it is true, can only revert to the political party, and not to the general advantage of truth in the republic, he will occupy the position which all honorable men give to a narrow, partisan, partial, unjust investigation. (Applause on the Republican side.) Therefore I ask him to let the amendment be offered.

Mr. Porter—The gentleman from Ohio says that I have changed my ground, and that I want to attack the Presidential title. Whatever may happen as to the Presidential title as a result of this inquiry does not concern me now. I have said, and I repeat, that I have no purpose of disturbing it. He says that if I only want to investigate the election frauds, the other side of the House would be glad to go into a general and sweeping investigation, that is, one so general that it would never eventuate in any examination at all; but there is between these two extremes a very obvious distinction. I seek to investigate, not with a view to disturbing the President or with any other view to the disturbance of settled results.—I seek to investigate the frauds which become operative, which were successfully carried out, which were effective, and which were brought to our notice by the memorial of a sovereign State of the Union. These are just exactly in two States and no more; therefore, an investigation looking beyond these two States would not be germane to the resolution, and would be of no practical effect.

THE PREVIOUS QUESTION CALLED.

Mr. Conger took the floor, but was met with loud shouts of "order" from the Democratic side. He however, succeeded in saying that if the other side of the House would not permit his side of the House to take any part in framing the resolution of inquiry, the Democratic side might go through and pass its resolution if it could. [Applause on the Republican side.]

Mr. Potter—The gentleman from Michigan is kind. We can do that without his permission, but if he will offer a resolution to investigate any fraud that he may allege, it will be more liberal than he proposes and it will receive the votes of this side of the House also.

Mr. Hale—I made my proposition in good faith. The gentlemen on the other side have declined it; now let them go on by themselves.

Mr. Butler—Will the gentleman from New York, [Potter] allow me to add to his resolution the words "South Carolina."

Mr. Garfield—Mississippi also.

Mr. Potter—No, Mr. Speaker, for the simple reason that there are no frauds in in South Carolina or Mississippi which have become operative. The distinction is obvious. I must now insist on the previous question.

THE REPUBLICANS WITHHOLD THEIR VOTES.

The Republican side of the house hereupon resorted to the parliamentary expedient of withholding their votes, so that the question came to be tested by tellers. There were only 118 yeas to one nay,—no quorum voting. Mr. Potter thereupon moved a call of the house, and in the call all the Republican members answered to their names, so that no further proceeding under the call could be taken.

Mr. Potter then asked the speaker whether if the house adjourned now this question would come up as unfinished business. The speaker informed him it would remain before the house until disposed of.

Mr. Conger and other Republicans called upon the Democratic side of the House not to show signs of weakness so early. The taunt was answered just as defiantly on the Democratic side, and it was intimated that the question would remain before the House until there were enough Democrats present to constitute a quorum without the aid of a Republican vote. This will require the presence of at least thirty more Democrats than were in the House to-day.

THE DEMOCRATS MOVE TO ADJOURN.

Mr. Potter made a motion to adjourn, and the House proceeded to vote upon it by yeas and nays.

The Speaker—Prior to announcing the result of the vote of on the question of adjournment the chair announces with great sorrow the death of Joseph Henry, an American whose scientific attainments are world-wide, and who has devoted a life-time to the interests of science, regardless of personal comfort or emolument.

The vote was then announced as yeas, 138; nays, 115; and the House accordingly adjourned.

The N. Y. Herald's despatch erroneously locates the recent Scribner butchery in this city. The terrible affair occurred in the suburbs of Augusta.

James E. Anderson, now in Philadelphia, writes a letter to Clarkson N. Potter denying the charge of fraud in the return of East Feliciana.

Investigating "Fraud."

THE REPUBLICANS READY.

But Propose going to the Bottom Facts.

[Special Cor. N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, May 12—While the Democrats have been busy in the preparation of their Florida resolutions the Republicans have not been idle. They have never been afraid of a full and searching inquiry into all the circumstances attending the election of 1876 in any and all of the States, because they have believed that no frauds or irregularities committed in behalf of the Republicans could be found that would not be thrown into the deepest shade by Democratic frauds of vary much greater proportions and by conspiracies to commit fraud that were not successful. What they have objected to is an investigation that should be limited in its scope, and which would enable the Democrats to pick out one or two transactions that may possibly have been irregular and hold them up before the people during the coming political campaign as proof that President Hayes was elected by fraud, while the greater Democratic frauds are covered up.

Some of the leading Republican members of the House have, therefore, during the past few days, been engaged in the preparation of a resolution which covers the most important points of the Democratic frauds of 1876, and the attempts of Democrats to secure electoral votes for Governor Tilden by bribery; and it will be offered by Mr. Hale as an amendment to the Democratic resolution whenever it is presented. Speaker Randall has agreed to give Mr. Hale the floor for that purpose, and will see to it that the Republicans have a vote of the House on their amendment. This he considers as nothing more than common fairness, and it is in full harmony with many precedents set by Republican Speakers when the party was in the majority in the House.

FLORIDA AND OREGON.

The provisions of the resolutions which have been prepared by the Republicans, and which Mr. Hale will offer as an amendment, are given below. They are:

First—That the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed in the course of its investigations to inquire fully into all the facts connected with the election in the State of Florida in November, 1876, and especially into the circumstances attending the transmission and receiving of certain telegraphic dispatches sent in that year between Tallahassee and New York City. The following is given as a sample of the dispatches in question:

TALAHASSEE, Nov 9, 1876.
A. S. HEWITT, New York:
Comply, if possible with my telegram.
GEORGE P. RANEY.

Second—That the same committee be instructed and directed to investigate all the facts connected with an alleged attempt to secure one electoral vote in the State of Oregon for Mr. Tilden for President of the United States, and Thomas A. Hendricks for Vice President, by unlawfully setting up the election of E. A. Cronin as one of the Presidential Electors in that State, and by an unlawful attempt to bribe one of the legally chosen Electors to recognize Cronin as an Elector for President and Vice-President, in order that one of the electoral votes of Oregon might be cast for Tilden as President and for Hendricks as Vice-President; and especially to examine and inquire into all the facts relating to the sending of money from New York to some place in Oregon for the purposes of such bribery and the persons sending and receiving the money and their relation with and agency for Governor Tilden, and more particularly to investigate into all the circumstances attending the transmission of the following telegraphic dispatches:

I.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 14, 1876.
Governor L. F. GROVER:
Come down to-morrow, if possible.
W. H. EFFINGER,
A. NOLTNER,
C. B. BELLINGER.

I.

PORTLAND, Nov. 18, 1876.
To Governor GROVER Salem:
We want to see you particularly on account of dispatches from the East.
WM. STRONG.
C. B. BELLINGER.
C. B. BRONAUGH,
J. H. REED,
W. W. THAYER.

Also the following:

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 1, 1876.
W. T. PELTON, N. Y.:
Answer Mac's dispatch immediately, or we will be embarrassed at a critical time.
WILKINSON CALL.

M.

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 4, 1876.
W. T. PELTON:
Things culminating here. Answer Mac's dispatch to-day.
W. CALL.

The committee will also be instructed to inquire into the facts connected with all telegraphic despatches between John F. Coyle and Colonel Pelton, under the latter's real and fictitious name, and with any and all demands for money on or about December 4, 1876, from Tallahassee, on Pelton or Hewitt, and any attempt to corrupt or bribe any official of the State of Florida by any person acting for Pelton, or in the interest of Governor Tilden as a Presidential candidate.

It is proposed, also, that investigation shall be made into the charges of intimidation at Lake City, in Columbia County, Florida, where Joel Niblack and other white men put ropes around the necks of colored men, and prepared to hang them, but released them on their promise to join the Democratic club and vote for Tilden; also into the facts of the election in Jackson County, where the ballot-boxes were kept out of sight of the voters, who voted through openings or holes six feet above the ground, and where many more Republican votes were thus given into the hands of Democratic inspectors than were counted or returned by them; also the facts of the election in Waldo precinct, of Alachua County, where the passengers of an emigrant train, passing through on the day of election, were allowed to vote; also the facts of the election in Manatee County, returning 235 majority for the Tilden electors where there were no county officers, no registration, and no notice of election, and where the Republican party, therefore, did not vote; also the facts of the election in the third precinct of Key West, giving 342 Democratic majority, where the Democratic inspector, carried the ballot-box home, and pretended to count the ballots on the next day outside of the precinct and contrary to law. Also into the facts of the election in Hamilton County, where the election officers exercised no control over the ballot-box, but left it in unauthorized hands in order that it might be tampered with; also into the reasons why the Attorney-General of the State, William Archer Cocke, as a member of the Canvassing Board, officially advised the Board, and himself voted to exclude the Hamilton County and Key West precinct returns, thereby giving, in any event, over 500 majority to the Republican electoral ticket, and afterward protesting against the result which he had advised and voted for, and whether or not Attorney-General Cocke was afterward rewarded for such protest by being made a State Judge.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN TELEGRAMS.

The Republicans propose that the committee shall investigate the facts relating to the following cipher dispatch sent from Portland, Oregon, on the 28th day of November, 1876, to New York City:

PORTLAND, Nov. 28.
TO W. T. PELTON, No 15 Gramery Pork New York:

I fully indorse this. JAMES K. KELLY.

Of which, when the key was found, the following was found to be the intent and meaning:

PORTLAND Nov. 28, 1876.
To W. T. PELTON No. 15 Gramercy Park, New York:
Certificate will be issued to one Democrat. Must purchase a Republican elector to recognize and act with Democrats to secure the vote and prevent trouble. Deposit $10,000 to my credit with Kountze Brothers, Wall-st. Answer.

TO COLONEL W. T. PELTON, 15 Gramercy Park New York:
Glory to God! Hold on to the one vote in Oregon. Have 100,000 men to back it up.
CORSE.

THE WHOLE CONSPIRACY TO BE PROBED.

Third—It is proposed that the committee be directed further to inquire into and bring to light, so far as it may be possible, the entire correspondence and conspiracy referred to in the above telegraphic dispatches, and to ascertain what were the relations existing between any of the persons sending or receiving those despatches, and W. T. Pelton, of New York; and also what relations existed between Pelton and Governor Tilden.

Fourth—It is proposed that the committee be instructed to make inquiry into all the circumstances and facts attending and connected with the alleged attempt violently and fraudulently to secure the electoral vote of the State of Louisiana for Governor Tilden by organizing armed bands of men who overran certain parishes in that State, particularly the parishes of Morehouse, Ouachita, East Baton Rouge, East and West Felicianas, burning the houses of colored Republicans, murdering the inmates, driving them from their homes, and by this and other methods of intimidation, establishing a reign of terror, such as prevented any approach to a fair expression of the legal voters of such parishes, and to make a full report upon the same, and also upon any attempt made to corrupt or bribe any of the officials of the State of Louisiana whose legal duty it was, by the laws of that State, to count or declare the vote of the State, to count wrongfully and unlawfully and declare the vote for the Electors representing Governor Tilden.

Fifth—It is intended that the committee shall be asked and directed to make full inquiry and investigation into all the methods of violence, intimidation and fraud by which the voters of Mississippi are alleged to have been prevented from casting their votes freely and peaceably for the candidates of their choice in the Presidential election, and the causes which led to the transformation in that State of the Republican majority of 40,000 to a Democratic majority nearly as large; and to extend those inquiries into all other States where such intimidation, violence and fraud are alleged to have influenced the result in the Presidential election; and, in investigating into such alleged violence, intimidation and fraud in the State of Mississippi, that the committee be directed to examine especially into the facts of the population colored and white, in the VIth Congressional District and the registration for the year 1876, when it is alleged that more than 5,000 colored men were improperly refused registration, and also to inquire into the facts which led to the radical change in the colored vote in that district after alleged intimidation and fraud were resorted to prevent colored voters from casting their votes freely and according to their wishes.

Some of the facts referred to are set forth in tables, which will be appended to the resolution.

FROM LEWISTON.

An Interesting Liquor Case.

LEWISTON, May 14. This morning at 4 o'clock, the police discovered two men coming from Auburn with a keg of liquor in their wagon. Giving chase, the men threw out the liquor, then abandoned the team which was taken and delivered to Deputy Marshal Carville. Shortly after the Sheriff demanded the team as the property of a stable keeper in Auburn, but it was not given up. Later Deputy Carville was arrested on a warrant issued by a justice of the peace for detaining, and was about to be committed when the attention of Judge Cornish was called and he at once made out a bond, and sureties were furnished for Carville's appearance at the Supreme Court.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS, Second Session.

WASHINGTON, May 14.

Senate.

Mr. Matthews gave notice that Tuesday next he would ask the Senate to consider the Texas Pacific Railroad bill.

The joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to refund to the Society of St. George of Philadelphia $1140 paid as a duty on the Statue of St. George imported by that society passed.

After the announcement of the death of Prof. Henry was received from the Regent of the Smithsonian Institute a joint resolution was adopted to adjourn Thursday at 4 p. m. to attend the funeral.

Mr. Wallace, from the Committee on Foreign relations, reported with amendments the bill in relation to the Japanese indemnity fund. The bill authorizes the President to pay over the sum to the Japanese Government, with the exception of $125,000 to be paid to officers and crews of the United States ships Wyoming and Jamestown on account of the destruction of pirate vessels by the former, and the bombardment of hostile forts at the Straits of Shimonoseki by the latter.

Mr. Plumb of Kansas, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably the bill authorizing the Secretary of War to have headstones erected over the graves of soldiers who served in the regular or volunteer army of the United States during the war for the Union and who have been buried in private cemeteries. He had a letter from the Quartermaster-Gen'l to the effect that there were 17,000 Union soldiers interred in private cemeteries. The bill was briefly discussed and laid aside.

Mr. Plumb presented a petition of merchants of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati and other cities favoring the passage of a law giving permission to all persons and companies without preference, to land telegraph cables on the shores of the United States. Referred.

At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed the post office appropriation bill, the pending question being on the point of order of Mr. Edmunds that the amendment offered yesterday by Mr. Maxey, in regard to the Brazilian steamship service could not be received as it proposed new legislation, and Mr. Edmunds spoke in opposition to receiving the amendment.

After a lengthy debate by Messrs Edmunds and Blaine the question was submitted to the Senate, and it was decided in the negative, yeas 23; nays 33. The bill having been considered in Committee of the Whole it was reported to the Senate, the amendments made in Committee were concurred in and the bill passed.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to repeal the specie resumption act.

House.

Immediately after the reading of the journal demands for the regular order were made on both sides and the Speaker announced the regular order to be the seconding of the demand for the previous question on Potter's resolution. The Republicans abstained from voting leaving the House without a quorum, 111 Democrats being present and 116 being necessary. A call of the House was then ordered.

The call disclosing the fact that there were 245 members present further proceedings under the call were despensed with and the question recurred on seconding the demand for the previous question. The Republicans again resorted to filibustering tactics and the House was left without a quorum, the Democrats being able to muster only 113 votes.

Mr. Wood—"As a factious minority seem determined to obstruct business I move the House adjourn." The motion was opposed by the Republicans, but carried by a vote of 130 to 104. Before announcing the result the Speaker laid before the House a communication from M. R. White, Chancellor of the Smithsonian Institute, informing the House of the death of Prof. Joseph Henry and inviting members thereof to be present at the funeral service next Thursday. On motion of Mr. Clymer the Senate resolution for adjournment of the two Houses. Thursday next at four o'clock, for the purpose of allowing Senators and members to attend the funeral of the late Joseph Henry, was taken up and adopted. The result of the vote was then announced after which the clerk gave notice of a Democratic caucus, to take place immediately. Derisive laughter on Republican side.

The Noyes Case.

TRENTON, May 14. In the United States Court Judge Nixon decided that Noyes could be held on other indictments than the one for which the requisition was granted and that the United States District Court had no right to go behind the requisition of the Governor and also decided that the State has jurisdiction on the amended returns and he therefore decided to remand the prisoner.

FROST.

Reports from Various Localities.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., May 14. For four nights there has been very heavy frosts, and reports from the surrounding country state that the effects upon the crops is very disastrous. Peaches, pears and grapes it is feared are almost entirely destroyed. Gardens will have to be replanted. Ice formed in many localities last night.

CINCINNATI, May 14. Despatches from seventy-five points in Ohio and Indiana indicate that ice and frost the past few nights have materially injured vegetables and early fruits.

WASHINGTON.

The President and the Fraud Shriek.

WASHINGTON, May 14. The friends of President Hayes say he shows no disquiet in view of the pending proceedings concerning the election frauds. He had not the slightest knowledge of frauds by political managers in Florida and Louisiana, other than published accusations on the Democratic side. During the canvass and investigation in these States, he was entirely reserved and took no part whatever concerning them, leaving the responsibility to those who performed such business. The President said this morning that there was nothing new in the proposed investigation; but while the frauds, if any were committed, should be exposed, such exposure would not invalidate his title to the Presidential chair, as this has been settled and declared by a commission constituted under a solemn act of Congress. Vice-President Wheeler called upon the President this morning and subsequently being asked what the President said regarding the pending proceedings in the House, replied: "The President did not even allude to the subject. My business was on other and entirely different business."

FENIANISM.

"A Good Joke."

BUFFALO N. Y., May 14. The report of the Militia being called out at Fort Erie anticipating a Fenian raid early yesterday morning is confirmed. Unusual excitement prevailed along the border owing to the reported crossing of 400 Fenians, but nothing occurred here to cause any such precautions by the Canadians. The whole thing is looked upon here by all classes as a good joke.

FOREIGN NEWS.

THE EASTERN [illegible]

Various Matters of Report.

NEW YORK, May 14. A cable special says that Schouvaloff, after a long interview with the Czar, expressed the hope that there will be peace. It is reported that hostilities have broken out at Batoum between the Russians and Turks. A St. Petersburg despatch states that Schouvaloff who arrived at the Russian Capital Sunday, was received twice on Monday by the Emperor. No information regarding these interviews has transpired. It is believed in court circles that Schouvaloff has simply returned for the purpose of seeking categorial instructions as to the precise limits of Russia's concessions. Uneasiness throughout the city is on the increase. Cable specials say that thirty-two battalions have recently reinforced the Russians at San Stefano. The insurgents in Albania are causing much trouble.

LONDON, May 14. A despatch from Constantinople to the Times says an arrangement concerning the fortresses has failed in consequence of the St. Petersburg Government disapproving of Todleben's projected retreat to Adrianople. The position of Sadyk Pasha, President of the Turkish Cabinet Council, is consequently re-established.

News from the Mussulman insurrection states that disturbances are spreading. The Greeks in Bulgaria are greatly dissatisfied, having just received new occasion for alarm in the attempt of the Russian authorities to call them under general conscription throughout Bulgaria.

Military critics assert that, in case of war, if the British and Turks hold Varna and Batoum, the Russians must withdraw from the Thracian peninsula and from Erzeroum and the Trebezond line, and this accounts for Todleben's insistence, even at the risk of prejudicing the negotiations between London and St. Petersburg.

The conviction is general that the object of appointing Todleben commander-in-chief, was, that he might rescue the army from the unsafe position into which the political motive of approaching Constantinople had drawn it.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE. Monday evening the many friends of G. W. Snow, Esq., and wife, gave them a very pleasant surprise at their residence on Union street. It being Mr. Snow's birthday he and his wife were invited out to take tea with a friend, and while they were absent the visitors took possession of the house and then dispatched a messenger after them. It was a complete surprise and the occasion was one that will long be remembered by all present.

VESSEL KEELED OVER IN THE STREAM. At an early hour yesterday morning a small fishing vessel named the Matilda, lying in Kenduskeag stream, keeled over and soon filled with water. As the tide was not very high at the time the men all succeeded in getting out. The captain thinks she must have been on a log, and while the tide was running out she keeled over and filled. The men righted her during the morning and went to work bailing out the water and at low tide bored some holes in the side of the craft. The captain thinks the damage will amount to fifty dollars.

A PLUCKY WOMAN, a correspondent writes: Last Thursday evening Mrs. Eliza Philbrick of Newburg, observed a large bird resembling an Eagle alight on the ground near the buildings, and appeared to be taking a survey of the premises preparatory to engaging in the poultry business. Mrs. Philbrick thinking his presence boded evil to her coop of spring chickens, procured a stake from the fence and gave him battle. His eagle, or hawkship, nothing daunted exhibited a vicious looking countenance and prepared to fight; but the first blow from the stake broke his wing, and placed him hors-de-combat, and this being followed up with a few more vigorous blows the conflict ended, and Mrs. Philbrick bore him home in triumph. Some idea may be formed of his size as his wings measured 5 feet 2 inches from tip to tip.

We find the following in one of our exchanges: "Why don't you trade with me?" said a close-fisted tradesman to a gentleman the other day. "Because," was the characteristic reply, "you have never asked me, sir. I have looked all through the papers for an invitation, in the shape of an advertisement, but in vain. I never go where I am not invited, sir."

EAST CORINTH. Mr. Editor: Another very successful term of East Corinth Academy has just closed. The whole number of students for the term was eighty-one, and a more gentlemanly and studious class of scholars as a whole, it would be hard to find, is the testimony of both teachers and citizens. Mr. Fletcher's assistants were Miss C. M. True of this village, and Mr. Matthew Laughlin of East Eddington, both giving general satisfaction. Mr. Fletcher's engagement of three years will close with this fall term. As principal of this institution he has steadily grown into popular favor, and for the interest of the school should be engaged for another term of years.—The dramatic entertainment given by the ladies of the Baptist Society, last Wednesday, at Nichols' Hall, was a perfect success.

RUSSIAN VISITORS.

Three of the Cimbria's Officers in Town.

Three of the Russian officers from the Cimbria arrived at the Exchange last evening shortly before midnight, having ridden from South West Harbor by private conveyance, stopping a short time in Ellsworth on the route. Their names on the hotel register appeared to be N. Zvernoff, G. Shoolgin and N. Javoronskoff, but we may have failed to get an entirely correct reading of the Russian nomenclature. The gentlemen were visited at the hotel by two members of our staff, who were very cordially received. The three officers are young men, of good appearance, two of them being above medium size and the third somewhat slight. One of them is quite dark in complexion while the other two are of the blonde Russian type. They are all young men, apparently 20 and 30 years of age, but being on a private excursion were indisposed to announce their titles, farther than that they were young officers of the Russian Navy. They were dressed in citizen's clothes, with the exception of uniform vests and stated that they were on a short leave for recreation. They all speak a little French, but have mastered only a few English phrases, although such words as they have learned are enunciated very correctly. Our slight stock of French was pretty severely tested in trying to converse with the gentlemen, and we were unable to "interview" them so extensively as might have been the case if we had numbered the Russian dialect among our accomplishments. We succeeded, however, in establishing a tolerable understanding, and had quite a pleasant "chat" in its way. They inquired particularly whether any British man-of-war had been reported as despatched to South West Harbor, and exhibited curiosity to learn the name and rank of the British Consul who is exercising surveillance over the Cimbria from Ellsworth where they say he has not registered his name. They were not disposed to say much about the prospects of war, treating it as a matter of uncertainty, which they were supposed to consider only when promulgated as a fact affecting their official duty. To a remark that we supposed they were ready for war if it should come, the principal speaker of the party modestly said they were not inclined to boast that they were anxious for war, but that of course they would be ready to serve their country whenever duty might call.

Hon. Llewellyn Powers and C. A. Gibson Esq., were introduced to the gentlemen, and very pleasantly received. The young Russians inquired about the population and business of Bangor and Portland and were given information about the running of the boats and trains. They intend remaining here to-day to look over the city and visit Portland on Thursday. As they had arrived so late and were evidently fatigued after their long ride, our call was made brief, and with a pleasant exchange of "Good-nights" we left them to take their first nap in the Queen City of the East.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

APRIL (CIVIL) TERM, 1878.

HON. JOHN APPLETON, Justice Presiding.
JAMES H. BURGESS, Clerk of Courts.
RUEL SMITH, Stenographer.

Tuesday, May 14.

John B. Foster vs. Marcellus W. Carter, and al. Action on account annexed for expenses paid on a trotting horse. Verdict for defendant.

Mitchell. Barker, Vose & Barker. C. N. Hersey.

Hartford Pond vs. Patrick Bradley. This is an action on the case alleging deceit in the sale of a hog by defendant to plaintiff. The plaintiff contends that defendant wanted to sell a hog to plaintiff and said he had one as good as the hog sold plaintiff the previous year—that he would make first class merchantable pork—that the hog when delivered turned out to be a Boar—that the meat of the same was strong, poor, worthless and unfit for any market—that the pork sold was by customers returned and that the customers either received their money back or other good pork—that defendant well knew the hog was a boar and unmerchantable and deceived the plaintiff that by reason of this deception the plaintiff was damaged—and he brings his action to recover for the damage alleged. Defendant sets up that he made no representations whatever as to the hog, except that he told plaintiff that the hog was a male; that if the pork was unmerchantable he—the defendant—did not know it and therefore is not liable; that plaintiff when be purchased knew the hog was a male. Verdict for plaintiff for $21.

The anniversary of the Freedman's Aid Society, was held in the evening and its claims were presented by Rev. E. Davies, Dr. C. F. Allen and Bishop Merrill.

From West Waterville.

In compliance with law the Assessors of the town have gathered the following statistics, showing the amount raised of each of the crops mentioned: Wheat, 803 bushels; 2,088 bushels corn; 6,775 bushels of oats; 11,939 bushels of potatoes; 1,900 tons hay; 4,184 pounds cheese; 22,735 butter; poultry and eggs sold (value) $1,790. Of course these amounts would be increased if we take into account all residents of the village who raise more or less of most of the crops mentioned above. Of the 399 voters in town, fourteen pay a tax of more than $100, two more than $400, and the Dunn Edge Tool Co., pay $732. The valuation of the town is $603,465, a falling off from last year of $42,000. The rate of taxation is 16.5 mills, about one mill less than last year. Dogs, (that is, of the quadruped specie) have gained 25 per cent. over last year, there now being fifty.

The prospect for an abundant hay crop was never better at this season than now.

The ladies of the Universalist Parish will give another sociable next Monday evening, when selections from Mrs. Jarley's wax figures will be presented and ice cream and other refreshments will be for sale. A good time may be looked for.

A general brightening up in the village is taking place. Many buildings are being repainted and improvements of various kinds are noticeable. G.

Dr. Robinson, the (only) professor of the real Indian mode of treatment in America) has treated hundreds of persons who are suffering from chronic diseases during the past week. His rooms at the Globe Hotel have been packed to overflowing, and the people seem to express themselves as more than pleased with Dr. Robinson's method of examinations. The Doctor is not the man who has been peddling stuff on the street, but is a man of high standing in the profession and the people who are looking for Dr. Robinson should bear in mind that his his only office in Bangor is at the Globe Hotel. 2t

DR. PALMER of Westerly, R. I., says: HUNT'S REMEDY is the most effective medicine I have ever used in my practice, for Dropsy and Kidney Diseases. I can safely say, HUNT'S REMEDY has almost raised the dead." All Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, are cured by HUNT'S REMEDY.

Dont fail to see Yellowstone on Pickering Square to-night.

The "Globe Hotel" is not closed, but is open to the travelling public as usual, and will be kept up to its first class high standard by the present landlord, J. E. Harriman.

Go see Dr. Robinson at the Globe Hotel.

The success of Dr. Robinson's treatment in the chronic forms of disease is pleasing to persons who have tried it. 2t

Robinson, at the Globe, is not a fifty cent doctor, so if your pocket-book is sick stay at home. "A word to the wise is enough."

VEGETINE

THE VERY BEST MEDICINE

—FOR—

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

NEWTON, N. H., March 23, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS —

Dear Sir,—Once more I take the pen to praise that king of medicines, Vegetine. When I began to take Vegetine two years ago with such marked benefit, my friends thought it was a stimulant effect, and would soon subside, leaving me as bad as before. Thinking that some of those who read the testimonial which I wrote at that time, might think the same, I write once more to satisfy them on that point. Since I began to take Vegetine, almost two years ago, I have gained steadily until the present time, at which I am enjoying my former health, and consider myself cured by Vegetine. Two years ago I was as low as man could be and live. I was confined to the bed for eight months, and given up to die by eight doctors, some of the most skilled in this State. They said I had several diseases, including consumption, heart disease, and several others, equally fatal, and must die. But Vegetine, taken as a last resort, brought me through, and to that I owe my life. Since my health began to improve, I have made a study of disease, and find the cause of all my symptoms to have been Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and I also find that five cases of disease of every six, are effects of the same cause. When the food is not properly digested in the stomach, it becomes a poisonous, putrid mass, which is absorbed into the blood, and by that it is conveyed to all parts of the system, causing symptoms of disease in any or all of the organs of the body, and if this cause is not removed, these symptoms become in time organic diseases. I have given Vegetine a thorough test in my own case and also in that of many of my acquaintances, and find it to be the very best medicine extant for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, one of the symptoms of which is usually the belief that you have some fatal organic disease. I am well known in the towns of Goffstown, Weare, and Newton of this State (N. H.), and can furnish abundant corroboration of all of these statements. I will willingly answer any letters of inquiry in regard to my case, or the use of Vegetine.

Yours truly, A. I. BURBECK.

If Vegetine is taken regularly, according to directions, a certain and speedy cure of Dyspepsia will follow its use.

VEGETINE

ASTHMA.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

MR. H. R. STEVENS —

Dear Sir,—For the last fifteen years, during the months of May and June, I have been afflicted with what the doctors called asthma. It was very distressing, rendering me miserable, so that I dreaded its coming on. I was recommended to use Vegetine. I took two bottles before I expected the attack, and was entirely relieved. I feel grateful to Vegetine.

JNO. T. BALLINGER, 1108 Greek St., Phila.

Vegetine has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE

FOR

Pimples and Eruptions of the Skin.

H. R. STEVENS —

My mother has used your valuable medicine, "Vegetine," for Tetter and Eruptions of the Skin, and has found great relief by the use of it. I can recommend it for such complaints.

E. A. BLACKWELL,
Dec. 20, 1877. Uniontown, Union Co., Ky.

PIMPLES

AND

Humors on the Face.

In this condition of the skin, the Vegetine is the great remedy, as it acts directly upon the blood. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors to disappear. By internal treatment all impurities are thrown out. Vegetine gives a good circulation to the blood, relieving the inflamed or congested organism, restoring the health, giving a good, clear complexion.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may, for no disease that may be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

It can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed, the entire mucous membrane linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I had had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, A. I. LAWRENCE.
FITCHBURG, Oct. 11.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made me familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular.

Congress has just passed a law giving a Pension of $8 per month to all Soldiers of the War of 1812 who served 14 days or were in battle—and the same pension to the widows of all such soldiers.

This entitles all to a pension who have received Land Warrants.

All desiring the pension can obtain it, by applying to me in person at my office, or by letter.

I have all the old Rolls, on which is borne the names of all soldiers of the War of 1812, with the place and length of service and date of discharge, and all facts, and I can give full and exact information in every case.

Also a record of most of the Land Warrants granted to these soldiers.

No person, east of Portland, has these rolls, except myself and A. J. Chapman, Esq., of Bangor, who has equal facilities for obtaining these pensions. He was formerly a clerk in my office.

Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

In the matter of ISAAC LEATHERS, Bankrupt, IN BANKRUPTCY.

This is to give notice that a petition has been presented to the Court, this thirtieth day of April, 1878, by Isaac Leathers, of Brooks, a bankrupt, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts, provable under the Bankrupt Act, and upon reading said Petition,

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot:

The undersigned, administratrix de bonis non, of the estate of Timothy E. Hanley, late of Brewer, in said county, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration by the sum of six hundred dollars or more.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your Honor to grant her power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the following described real estate of the deceased, (including the reversion of the widow's dower therein), as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz: The late homestead of said deceased, situate on Brimmer street in said Brewer, and the same now occupied by the undersigned, to satisfy said debts, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

Said real estate is the same described in a Deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds of said County.
